Shamrock High School Shamrock, Texas

Foreword

Yes, here it is at last! Your annual staff has worked hard and with the cooperation of many people we have recorded within these pages many laughable and cherished memories that otherwise would be forgotten.

As each of us go our separate ways and develop our individual lives, when we are living in the future, we will think back to the past. There are many things we want to remember and as we blow the dust off of the '60 Shamrock, we will remember our past days at Shamrock High School.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I extend greetings to the students and faculty of Shamrock Public Schools. It is our earnest desire to work toward the best educational program possible for the children of our community. Through the combined efforts of the entire community, our purpose can be accomplished. We are all proud of our schools and pledge our continued support and effort.

Yours sincerely,

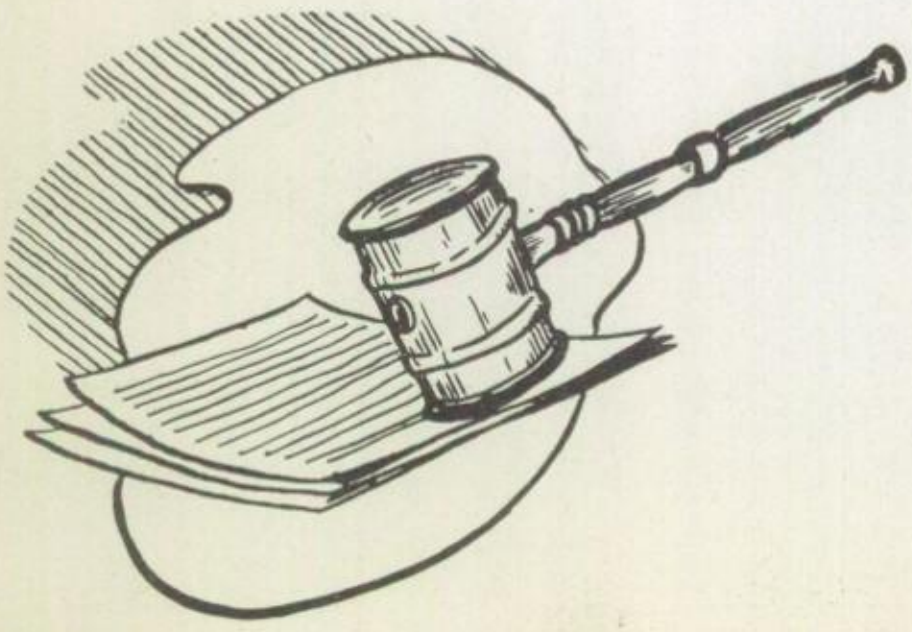
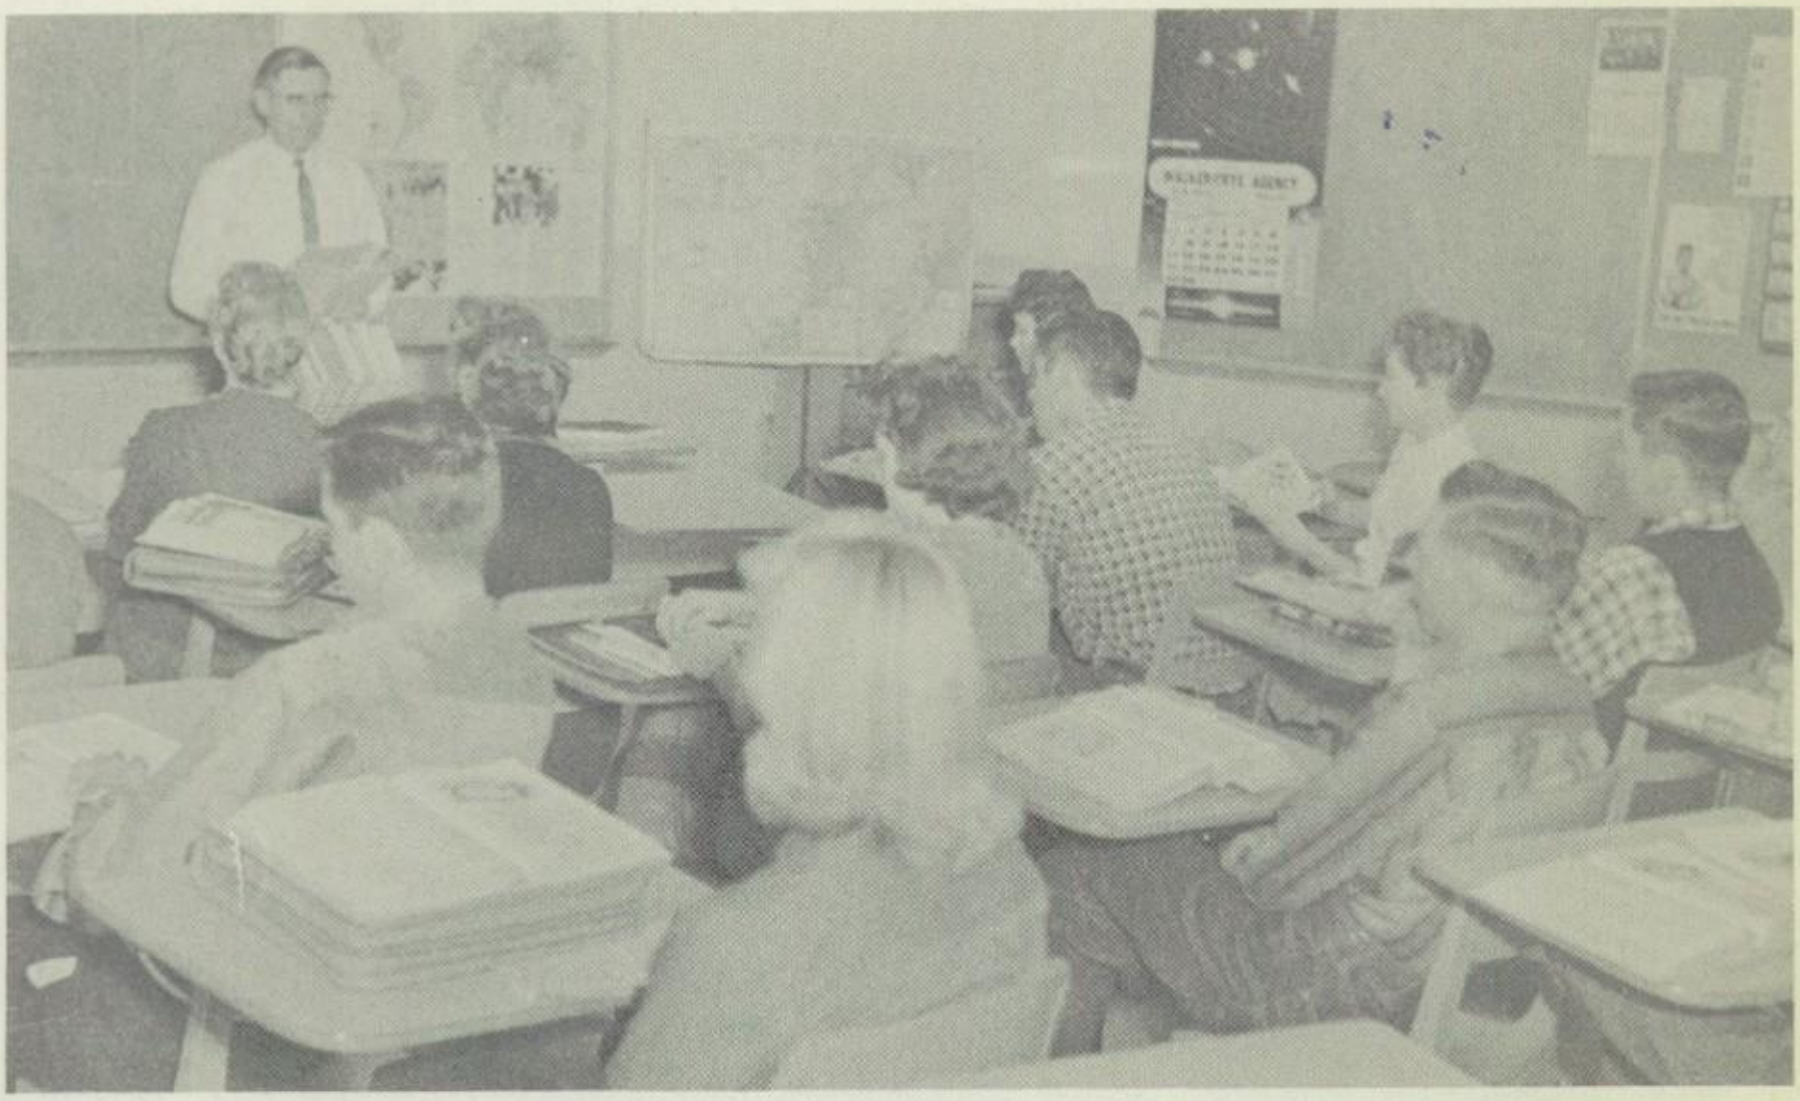
Student Council

The Student Council is made up of representatives from each class. Each year they purchase and decorate a Christmas tree, buy materials for and build the high school float for the St. Patrick's Day parade, and present the awards banquet where everyone who has received an award is recognized. To get money for these projects, they sell ribbons during football season and during basketball season they are in charge of the concession stand.

This year they presented the cheerleaders with a megaphone and they propose to have parking lines painted in the parking lots.





There are gems of wondrous brightness
  Oft times lying at our feet,
And we pass them, walking thoughtless,
  Down the busy, crowded street.
If we knew, our pace would slacken,
  We would step more oft with care
Lest our careless feet be treading
  To the earth some jewel rare.

The chief objective of the course in shorthand is to train the student for a future vocation. The first semester the student learns the basic practices of shorthand. The second semester the student takes rapid dictation and transcribes accurately.

The teletraining course used in the shorthand class was to train the student to learn to answer the telephone correctly and to handle calls correctly for the employer. Tact and courtesy were taught along with voice personality.

On a bright September morning in the year of 1956, fifty-two starry-eyed freshmen entered high school. As we walked into that old shabby, three-storied building on north Main street, we entered a new world.

During our freshman year we found our places in sports and the various organizations. Coach Bond was our sponsor that year. We were a smart class but not as smart as we thought we were.

Our sophomore year was filled with new but different experiences. We sponsored a "Howdy Week." Everyone worked hard for their princess, we sold cotton-bowl mums and had bake sales, we came in second in the coronation. Our sponsor was Mrs. Montgomery.

We had many responsibilities our Junior year. In supporting our princess that year we sold ourselves as slaves, had bake sales, and the girls played the women faculty in a thrilling game of basketball. At this time our acting ability became evident in "Off the Track", our Junior play. The highlight of that year was the Junior-Senior Banquet. "Paradise of the Deep." For the benefit of the freshmen "Paradise of the Deep Sea."

At last we are Seniors. Only thirty-nine of us made it though, many of our classmates found love and were dragged to the alter. We are very busy this year. We have sold mums, magazines, and bumper stickers. Mrs. Connolly is our sponsor again.

History

The story of the growth of America has been told many times, and that story has expanded and become more complex as our national history has unfolded. The history of the period prior to 1865 has been condensed; the period between 1865 and the turn of the century has been covered adequately but without unnecessary details and a very complete picture of our national progress in the twentieth century has been emphasized.

Plane Geometry

Plane Geometry is a study of the parts of space and their relations to one another while they are in motion and changing.

In this course, study is not confined to individual definitions and theorems but is extended to the definition, the theorem, and the assumption. The nature of such concepts and their role in sound thinking have been underscored throughout.

Spanish

In Spanish we learn how Spanish-speaking people feel and act. Most of our nearest neighbors speak Spanish.

We, too, have a great Spanish heritage, for our West and South were first settled, long before Jamestown, by Spaniards who left us Spanish place names, gave us the fiesta customs and costumes of the Southwest, and added words to our everyday speech.

Spanish culture reached us along the "Royal Road."

Biology

Biology is the study of life. It is a very inclusive subject which has been of interest to people for thousands of years.

Much knowledge has been accumulated during this time, and scientists have found it necessary to become specialists in certain areas of biology. Study is made of the structures of plants and animals. Biology is international because many people in many lands are striving to learn and to discover the same facts of life.

English I

English I is said to be the foundation for all other learning. A student of English is given the opportunity to understand and appreciate literature, and to learn to express himself effectively in both written and oral communication. Literature introduces the works of author of the world. The students continues his study of grammar and usage each year. Creative writing and journalism are offered to those who are especially interested in writing. Students in English I use the Practical English magazine for speed and comprehension.

World History

We benefit from world history from past contributions in government, law, religion, language, art, literature, and social custom. Latin

The Latin and English words, covering such matters as prefixes, suffixes, loan words, phonetic changes, interesting derivation, Latin phrases, abbreviations, and quotations, have always been a particular feature of the Latin course.

Students study the thirteen "Glimpes of Roman Life," together with the illustrations and the reading selections, to form a basis for study of Roman civilization.

Much time, effort, and thought has to be devoted by the students to thoroughly understand and appreciate Latin.

General Science

The main objectives of science are to develop understandings of scientific principals and to train students to apply the principles in their way of living, to stimulate reflective thinking in various ways, but chiefly by teaching students what the scientific method is, and how to use it in solving their problems, to develop scientific attitudes and appreciations of science.

In order to fulfill these objectives, students study the earth, its elements, and what makes up these elements.

You simply give to others a bit of yourself--a thoughtful act, a helpful idea, a word of appreciation, a lift over a rough spot, a sense of understanding, a timely suggestion. You take something out of your mind, garnished in kindness out of your heart, and put it into the other fellow's mind and heart.

JO ALICE STEPHENS

On a cold winter night in November, Miss Jo Alice Stephens was presented as Band Sweetheart at the half-time ceremony at El Paso Stadium. As she rode around the field the band played "Linger A While." Miss Stephens was met by Don Isaacs, band president, who escorted her to the field and presented her with a bouquet of red roses. He then took her to her throne which was decorated in gold and arranged in the center of the band. As a salute to their Sweetheart the band marched off the field playing "Five Foot Two" and spelling "Jo."

Miss Shamrock of 1960

Miss O'Gorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Gorman, is Miss Shamrock of 1960. Frances will be official hostess to colleens in Shamrock on March 17, to vie for the title of "Miss Irish Rose." The 17-year-old beauty was chosen by popular vote of the student body of Shamrock High School.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Once a year--on March--17--"Ten-gallon hats" are replaced with "Green Derbies." This is the day when the natives of Shamrock, Texas, consider themselves more Irish than Texan and extend a hearty "Caed Mille Faltha"--ancient gaelic for "A hundred thousand welcomes"--to attend their annual St. Patrick's day festival.

The day usually dawns with a fly-in breakfast, continues through the morning with an Old-timers' reunion, and reaches two climaxes--a giant street parade shortly before noon and the coronation of "Miss Irish Rose" in mid-afternoon. Band concerts, old fiddlers' contests, rodeo performances, and dances will round out the day's program.

The Shamrock St. Patrick's day festival began in 1938 with the idea of Band Director Glenn O'Truax. The Boosters Club grabbed the idea and the celebration started rolling and has gained momentum for more than 20 years. An estimated 12,000 persons attended the first festival, indicating to the officals the event was popular enough to become an annual affair.

In 1942 the show was cancelled because of World War II, and it was not revived until March 17, 1950. In deference to the Korean conflict in 1951, the celebration was cancelled once more.

Visitors in Shamrock can see the Blarney Stone at the City Park. The stone was dedicated during the Irish festival last year. The rock is from the Blarney Castle, Cork County, Ireland.

Colleens come from all around Shamrock to enter the contest for Miss Irish Rose. The crowning of Miss Irish Rose will take place at about 2:30 at the National Guard Armory.

The Miss Shamrock's of the past years are as follows:

1959	Sharon LeBlanc	1953	Patrica Shelton
1958	Bonnie Shelton	1952	Joan Stevens
1957	Barbara Sue Bell	1950	Patsy Blevins

The new Irish football stadium was officially designated El Paso Field at a formal dedication ceremony on Friday, October 23, between halves of the Shamrock-Quanah football game.

The disclosure of the name, selected by school officials for the new stadium facilities, was made by Wallace Fields, president of the board of trustees.

B. Marshall Willis of El Paso, advertising and publicity director for El Paso Natural Gas Company, expressed his thanks to the Irish fans and school officials for the honor of having the stadium named after his company. In addition to Mr. Willis, Supt, Kenneth M. Laycock introduced several other El Paso Natural Gas Company officials, officials of United Carbon Company, members of the School Board, and special guests during the dedication ceremonies.

Attending from El Paso were: Marshall Willis, George Stauning, Bob Burk, Roy Brooks, and Howard Kiby.

El Paso Natural Gas Company officials from Jal, New Mexico were: G.E. Kendricks, and R.H. Barnett.

El Paso Natural Gas Company personel from McLean were: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Fuller, and Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Roach.

The Freshmen presented a Beauty Contest in order to raise money for their Hallowe'en candidate. Miss Larry Reeves won, SHE certainly was beautiful.

All high school students were invited to attend the mask party that was held instead of the Hallowe'en Carnival that is usually staged. The masked party was held at the high school gymnasium on Saturday night, October 31, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Prizes were given to several students.

The student body of Shamrock High School has enjoyed several Southern Assemblies this year. Among these were Russ Burgess, and his trained African Love Birds, Harold Coats, the trampaline artist, and Charles Ramsden, the Electronic Novatar.

Dr. Harvey, from Oklahoma A and M College, presented a science program on October 6.

The student body enjoyed an assembly of Conrad Marionettes on October 16.

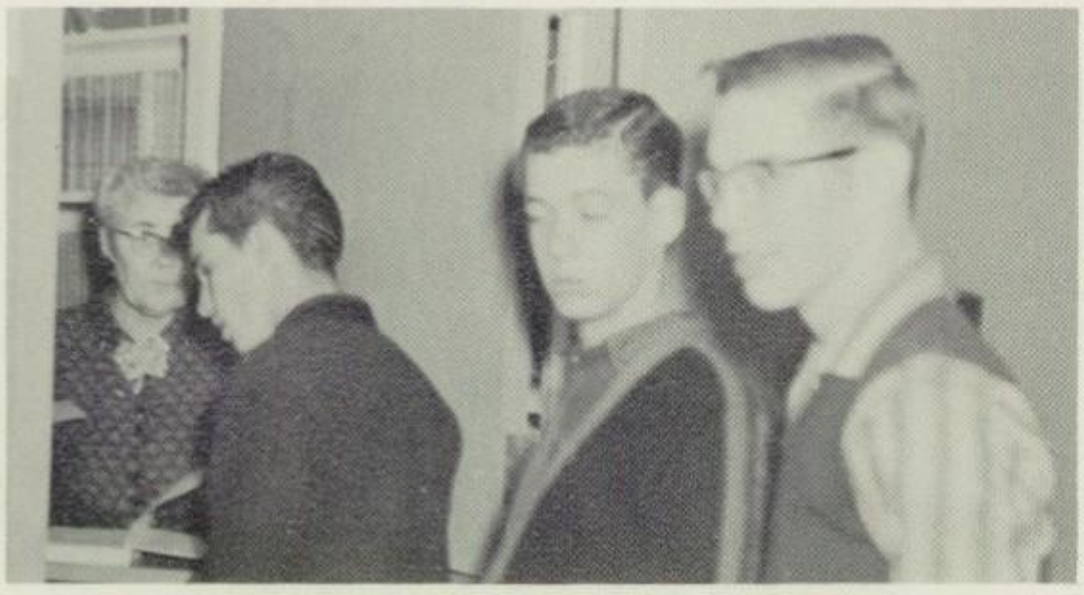
On November 13, an escape artist, presented an assembly. He was also a magician.

Tex Chamberlain and his dogs, Troubles, Me-Too, Meat Ball, and Fuzzy, presented an assembly on December 16.

The students are admiring the Christmas tree that the Student Council placed in the hall about a week before Christmas. This helped create the Christmas Spirit.

"Twas The Night Before Christmas in Beatnik Style" was presented by the Sophomores at the all school Christmas party on December 15, at the high school gymnasium. The Freshmen, Juniors, and Seniors also presented skits.

The students are signing up for another term.



We don't check them out because we want to, it is required.

On January 29, the football boys were given a banquet. L.H. Tucker was named outstanding athlete of the year.

Mrs. Montgomery and Mr. Stephenson are working on the study of curriculum revision. A headache to all teachers.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet was held in the school cafeteria, on February 11. The future homemakers had their Mothers as special guest.

The Freshman Class sponsored a "Twirp Week". Karl Bond and Sandy Treece were crowned "most name" King and Queen at the dance on Saturday night.

Barbara is carrying Tommy's books, a requirement of the "Twirp Week".

On February 16, in the school cafeteria the FFA boys had their annual banquet. Their mothers and fathers were special guest. Films of their summer trip were shown as entertainment.

These students made exhibits of science. They will represent Shamrock High School in the Amarillo Science Fair. These student have spent many hours of hard work in the preparation of these projects.

On March 14, the School Board enjoyed a dinner in the Home Economics dining room. Miss Borth prepared the meal.

Work thou for pleasure--paint or sing or carve
The thing thou lovest, though the body starve--
Who works for glory misses oft the goal;
Who works for money coins his very soul.
Work for the work's sake, then, and it may be
That these things shall be added unto thee.

Professor Rockby, head of a college history department, has decided to write a book. To have the proper "atmosphere" he persuades his family to spend their summer vacation in the warden's house, of an abandoned prison. Things begin happening immediately. Mrs. Simpson sees a ghost come out of the tower. Gennie has brought a girl friend along for company. Gennie leaves the room and voices begin coming from the tower. Thinking it is the Professor, Marcel goes up into the tower and disappears! A lively search is begun. They don't find the missing girl, but they uncover the story of George Albright, the last man to be hanged for murder in the tower. His ghost is supposedly haunting the old jail. The real ghost is captured and the missing girl is found. A twenty year murder is solved.

And if Marcel didn't scream, who did?

I tell you, I saw a ghost.

Fignewton! What has happened to you?

Nobody's leaving till I say so.

Boo!

Though man should always play to win,
When he is forced to choose
That game he should not enter in
Which he can't bravely lose.
For he who ventures for a gain,
Whatever be the stake,
Must sometimes find his skill in vain
And failure's losses take.
So kick the ball or make the goal
Or run the speedy mile,
And then if failure bumps you hard
Just take it with a smile.
For poor the man, whate'er his name,
When all is said and done,
Who can not play a losing game
And still enjoy the fun.
